CAPT. BANKS DEAD.

For Twenty Years in Service of L. & N. R. R. Co.

Capt. Thos. A. Banks, formerly of this city, died in Springfield, Tenn., last Wednesday night, after an illness of several months. Capt. Banks was 56 years old and was for twenty years in the employ of the L. & N. railroad company. He was for several years conductor of the Hopkinsville and Nashville accommodation and was one of the most popular conductors ever in the road's service. He is survived by a widow and six children.

CAUSED BY CANCER.

Relief Comes After Many Months Of Suffering.

Miss Nannie Bryan died a few days ago, at Rose Hill, a few miles south of Lafayette. She had been in bad health for about a year, but the immediate cause of death was cancer.

Deceased was a daughter of the late John Bryan and was a member of the Methodist church. The interment took place in the family burying ground Friday.

KILLED THE DOGS

But Rabbit Cleared The Track And Escaped.

Two much prized pointer dogs, one belonging to Ed Starling and the other to Will Starling, were killed by a passenger train just North of the city Wednesday. The dogs were after a rabbit and the latter crossed the track safely, but the pointers were caught and instantly killed.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

GRAND MILITARY DISPLAY.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West Larger And Better Than Ever This Season.

"To form anything like an adequate idea of the vast enterprise of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders, and the prodigious extent of every department, would require something more than casual inspection. Only a well-trained eye can comprehend the immensity of the arena, and the amount of detail, discipline and forethought required to victual and care for the vast army mustered is astonishing."

The cost of introducing these living pictures of Western and International history is enormous. Undoubtedly to a great many people the above paragraph savors strongly of egotism, but the fact is that it happens to be an extract from a five-column editorial article in the sedate and unemotional New York Daily Tribune, and is but a reiteration of what has been penned and said a thousand times, or more. Moreover, since it was written the grandly original and realistic enterprise of which it speaks has been notably enlarged, and now presents a greater number of men and horses than any other ever had.

Included in this year's entertainment is a number of selected men from both the English and Boer armies, a platoon of Canadian Mounted Rifles and Northwest Mounted Police, a corps of the U. S. Life-Saving Service, with all their paraphernalia, and a grand spectacular reproduction of the Capture of Pekin by the soldiers of the allied powers, give as nearly as possible correct scenes of the battle of Tien-Tsin.

Buffalo Bill comes here for two performances on Oct. 4.

There will be a grand street cavalcade on the morning of the exhibition, at 9:30 o'clock, passing through the principal streets.

He Owes His Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. I. Stump, of Normantown, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral.—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by all druggists.

Of English Ancestry.

Mrs. Gielow, who will appear at Holland's Opera House, Monday evening, Sept. 20, was Miss Martha Sawyer, whose English ancestry is traced unbrokenly from the time the Sawyers followed the fortunes of William the Conqueror from Normandy to England, in the Eleventh Century, to the present time. The first Sawyer coat-of-arms was given Sir Hugh Sawyer by his sovereign, Richard Cœur de Lion in 1310, for bravery in the field of battle.

Sir Robert, son of Sir Hugh, was Attorney-General to King Charles; his brother was Speaker of the House of Commons, and another brother was Secretary of State under King Charles, and his only daughter married Thomas, Earl of Pembroke.

Of Mrs. Gielow the Brooklyn Standard-Union says:

"The dramatic dialect reading, given by Mrs. Henry Gielow at Mrs. Russell's Tuesday afternoon, was of exceptional interest and a crowning success to the undertakings of this gifted little Southern woman. The monologues and poems read on the occasion were of her original composition, and the accuracy of her dialect and description of the darkey character simply perfect. The entire programme was most enjoyable, and her rendition of her 'Mammy's Reminiscences' and 'Evening on the Plantation' was inimitable."

Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75c. Seats now on sale.

Have you a sense of fullness in the region of your stomach after eating? If so you will be benefited by using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They also cure belching and sour stomach. They regulate the bowels too. Price, 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

EIGHT JURORS

WHO SERVED IN GITEAU'S TRIAL STILL LIVE.

Popular Error That Some Went Mad And That Famous Twelve Are Dead.

The assassination of President McKinley recalls the history of the Guiteau trial and conviction and suggests the correction of a popular error in regard to the fate of the jury that condemned the assassin to the gallows nearly 20 years ago.

Time and again it has been published that all of the jurors are dead; that some of them went insane, while others have come to untimely ends in some way. Guiteau at the time the verdict was rendered, denounced the jury in terms that made the cold chills run down the back of all in the Washington courtroom at the time, but only four of the famous jury have passed away. The other eight are living in Washington. Mr. John P. Hamlin, who was foreman of the jury, is a messenger to Senator Morgan's committee in the United States Senate. He is hale and hearty and is over three score and 10 years. He was seen some days ago at his home and said, speaking of the event in his life: "Judge Walter Cox had given his charge to the jury and a breathless silence hung over the vast multitude assembled in the courtroom to witness the closing scene in the judicial investigation of the great national tragedy. The verdict of guilty was announced, whereupon Guiteau arose and said, pointing his finger at the 12 men: 'My blood be upon the head of that jury, and don't you forget it. That is my answer. God will avenge this outrage.'

"My fellow jurymen were fully convinced that Guiteau was conscious of what he was doing when he fired the fatal shot. Our average ages at the time was 50 years. Eight of us are still living in this district. Gates, I think, was the youngest, and Hobbs, who was the second of our number to die, if I mistake not. Mr. Prather died only a few days ago. Thos. Heinlein and Fred Brandenburg have passed away. Poor Sheehan is in the insane asylum. His misfortune, I am sure, is not from anything that has to do with the Guiteau trial and conviction. Stewart, I believe, has retired from business. Gates is employed at the Navy Yard. Brawner is in the district service. Wormley is also employed by the District Government. Langley has been employed for a long time in the Treasury Department.

"I often meet my fellow jurymen, and I can't detect that there is anything wrong with any of them yet. Like myself, they are growing old, and in a few years only a memory of us will be left."

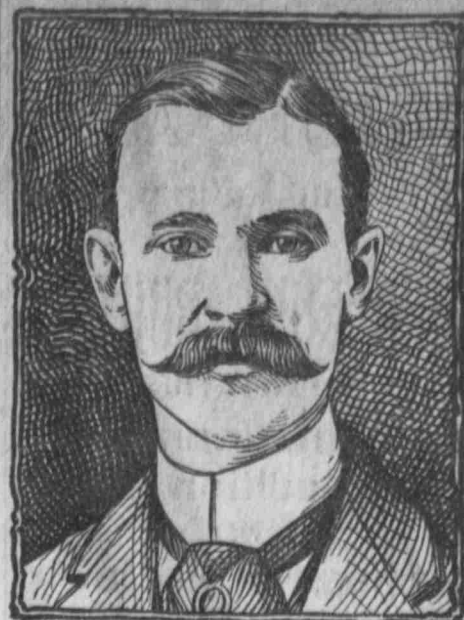

Mr. Hamlin said, in regard to his being selected as a juror: "Of the hundred men in the panel I was the first one that would answer for a juror out of 13 calls; hence I was made foreman. The confinement was long and arduous—over two months in the National Hotel, closely guarded by United States Marshals. When Judge Cox gave us his charge and we retired, I don't think that we were out more than an hour. Brawner read the indictment. We voted only twice. Eleven were for conviction, with a blank. We soon found the trouble, which was 'explained away.' The next vote sealed Guiteau's fate."

Most Spirited Story.

"At Valley Forge," which will be the attraction at Holland's Opera House, Oct. 1, is said to be the sweetest, prettiest and most spirited story of our Colonial times yet written. It is described as a drama of marvelous power and great human interest, replete with spontaneous comedy and a touching sentiment which lifts it immediately into the atmosphere of genuine merit. The story deals with the love of a pretty Colonial girl for a dashing Captain in General George Washington's army, and threaded along the central theme is a series of strong, logical and dignified climaxes. The cast is spoken of as being altogether a notable one, and is headed by Mr. Wm. L. Roberts and Miss Olive Martini.

A CHICAGO DENTIST

Relates How He Found a Cure for Systemic Catarrh.

R. A. Norris, D. D. S.

R. A. Norris, Doctor of Dental Surgery, 126 State street, Chicago, Ill., writes to The Peruna Medicine Company as follows:

"I desire to express for the benefit of the public my experience with the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. I was afflicted with catarrh of the head and throat for twelve years. I had tried many remedies without avail. I applied to several doctors, but they were not able to cure me. I learned of the remedy, Peruna, through your pamphlets and took it for four months. It entirely cured me, and as I took the remedy three years ago, I consider the cure permanent."

Hon. Clement M. Hammond is one of the best known newspaper men in New York City. Writing to The Peruna Medicine Co., he says:

"For about six years I have had trouble every fall and winter with my voice. At times it has extended to my bronchial tubes and lungs. I think all this trouble came from whooping cough, which I had when I was about twelve years old, and which left me with catarrh. Since I have taken Peruna, my voice has been clearer than in over two years, all of which I am willing to testify to." Mr. Hammond's address is "The Arlington," 64 Montague street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., for a free catarrh book.
